

© 2010

AnnyNymity

“Loving Harold Fine”

How to note thee, my sweet malcontent, my plucky doper, my two-tone, two-ply madman? An adoring fan, am I. How am I, here in this now, this shallow shallow digital now, to praise your better? My path too, as incongruous denizen of not the wider world but of the arts leads into the dark... How outerspace, how obsequious, to deal and dwell in your lair... your uncut hair, your anarchist air...

your shake-brownie glee... your laissez-faire, as you drop out of the green material... care? How to note thee? adored.

"I love you, Alice B. Toklas."

--Peter Sellers, earning and learning while acting as establishment lawyer gone contrary, Harold Fine*

*lyrics and music credited to Harpers Bizarre

2010 Wood Coin: To Use or Not to Use Issue: AnnyNymity, "Loving Harold

Fine (from "I Love You, Alice B. Toklas" the movie)"